January 11th - 15th 2010

Arctic Wildlife & Environment

"The Arctic is an exciting place full of animals and people. There are many types of animals that have their own habitat and it isn't all frozen. The animals vary in size and characteristics."

Over the next week, the students will be taking an adventure to the Arctic wild! We will learn all about the various animals and creatures that inhabit this vast region. Some will seem familiar such as, the polar bear & walrus, others will be new animals the students may have never heard of before, like the musk ox, dall sheep, narwhal, caribou, snowy owl, wolverine, arctic fox and many more! Our study will also include;

- The Arctic nations
- The People of the Arctic
- Arctic languages
- Arctic weather patterns
- Arctic vocabulary : tundra, moss, lichen, tree-line, hemisphere, precipitation, Arctic Circle and more!

Wednesday, January 13th - Pajama Day!

Monday, January 18th - Martin Luther King Jr. Day

On Monday and Tuesday of this week, we will be highlighting the accomplishments of Martin Luther King Jr. At school we will focus on the importance of treating each person, each friend and each classmate with kindness and love. We will discuss how no matter what kind of hair you have, dark, light, long, short or what eye color you have, brown, blue, hazel or green, that we are all more alike than different - and that is what our focus should be on. Helping the students discover that it's "what's inside" that counts.
